Wrestling Show A Novelty Turn

An entertainment which should satisfy the cravings of the most enthusiastic wrestling fan was pulled off at Norway Opera House Wednesday evening under Arthur Morris' management. There were, however, powers behind the throne which dominated contrary to expectation. The happy blending of scientific work, slight of hand stunts, challenges and counter challenges, and speech-making, this show was the limit. The crowded house left loose and their patience was tried to the breaking point.

While waiting for the evening train to bring Gus Legendre to his stamping grounds, Kid Young and Mike Nadir both of local fame, went on for a one-fall round with time limit of 30 minutes. This was a draw. Hussane and a exciting conclusion Mike challenged Young for a finish at a later date.

Soldier Kid Boldue of Lewiston and Ray Russell, the South Paris grain tinner, followed in a sparring handicap engagement which was really a fair and exciting article. According to agreement, Boldue was to drop Russell twice in 30 minutes, but lost as the Paris boy was not the easy mark which went down easily two years ago. This was the first time since the first meeting that the pair have clinched and Russell's improvement at the game was striking. Hussane was the third man on the mat in this fall.

The semi-final between Young, Bull Montana, otherwise Jack Morro, an Italian from Williams, Del., and Jim Condon of Plainsfield, N. J., was scheduled as the best two out of three, but somehow referee Gus Legendre connected it into a one-fall time line. This went without a hitch and in fifteen minutes, or until the crowd shut it off with their patriotic comments which finally sank in. Only two opinions are expressed concerning this match. It was either a clever exhibition of scientific stuff and nothing more, or it on the level, the men were so nearly matched that the contest was impossible unless the match continued until one gave in on a long strain. Anyhow it was the genuine goods so far as a demonstration of skill and intense training goes.

In the big show, K. Birch, the boy Finn of South Paris, won his first fall, Hussane, the Syrian warrior, by cleaving up the second and third falls in 2 and 3 minutes respectively. Hussane secured the first in ten minutes after playing rough stuff. At Kingside Birch weighed 188 pounds and Hussane tipped the scales at 174, but this difference was not apparent through the match. It was a fast and furious battle with Hussane a better actor during the early stages. Birch appeared to be badly hurt and was taken over his rough treatment and was held over the trunks back until the psychological moment. Without any question Birch had the big crowd pulling his way and it was a monster celebration when Hussane took tip that his services were no longer making a hit. Gus Legendre retired in favor of Kid Boldue who officiated during the closing argument.

Challenges were thrown thick and fast. Condon was willing to meet any man in the hall immediately or wait till Monday afternoon March 12. Annual dues are due at that time.

Elon L. Brown who has been ill with pneumonia during the past three weeks, is about the house and can make short trips around the premises.

Frank Harwood of Norway Lake who is helping Elgin A. Greenleaf press hay at the Millett farm on Pike's Hill, escaped a serious accident Thursday, in a miraculous manner. As he was adjusting the engine, of which he has charge, his clothing was caught in the belt, and threw him so that had not Mr. Greenleaf, who heard his shrill shout off the engine, just in time he would have been seriously injured. With the exception of a few scratches, he was not hurt and returned to work Friday morning.

PICKUPS, LOCAL AND OTHERWISE

Editor Oxford Co. Advertiser, Norway: I notice that ex-Judge Whitman takes exception to my Barn Door talks and local pickups. I have read them all without a groan. I didn't know before that the ex-Judge was a kicker. I supposed he was "all right, sound and kind." And he also mentions the horse whip. Great Coaster, but the whipping post has been abolished in this state.

As I harken back on the past fifty-five years ago, I saw the ex-Judge for the first time. I was teaching school just above Hebron Station. His folks lived in the district adjoining just across the line in Buckfield and he used to come to my school to see the large girls. He was then only Charles F. Whitman, about 16 years old, quite scholarly, innocent appearing, well behaved and had no bad habits.

Not long afterward his father sold out and bought a farm near the north side of Strained Mountain in the west part of Buckfield not far from where I lived. There he found some more girls to admire. On one occasion I and another young fellow that lived nearby were "sitting up" in the parlor with two good looking girls in the neighborhood. The "old folks" had gone to bed in another part of the house. About half past eight the man of the house began to speak to the girls to get them to go to bed, but no notice was taken of it. He called again and again, still they kept up their merry conversation. Then he began to throw out hints for the boys to go home. Still they stayed. At last the old man jumped out of bed and appeared in the room before them with only one garment on and that didn't reach down to his knees, and he yelled out: "I'll have my house clear at once!"

Charles married a Norway girl and he got one that was worth having. When the ex-Judge was writing the history of Buckfield, he sent for me to come to his office in the County buildings and have an all day session and help him on an important part of it and also select the poems of mine that I wanted published in it. His wife knew I was coming and she sent me a lunch of bread, cake and mince pie. It was more than splendid. It was gorgeous.

Now if you will harken back on the past, I will tell you something about Buckfield that he didn't put into his history.

Many years ago when I was a boy, there came a young lawyer into the village. His name was Jacob Brown. He had a small office near where the Trust Company's office now stands. There were young men in the village, that seemed to think they were the smartest people on earth, and they imposed upon him unmercifully. In fact, they insulted young men that came in there from other towns. The young lawyer didn't stop long, but before he left, he gave his opinion of the town. He said a man might visit every part of the civilized world, he might graduate from the highest institutions of learning in the world, and unless he spent certain number of his days in Buckfield, he would die a fool.

Fearing that I might shock somebody's dignity, I will adjourn "sine die."

Interesting Case of Miss Baird

Sick Four Years, Red Cross Worker Tells How She Got Well

The case of Miss G. I. Baird of 30 Glenville Avenue, Allston, Mass., may bring new hope and health to other sufferers who have stomach worms and do not know what is the matter. A letter from this sufferer tells the story:

"I have been sick almost two years, had four doctors with little or no relief. Some of the doctors said I had enlarged liver, nervous indigestion, too much acid in my system. I was so tired in the morning it seemed as though I could not get dressed and get to work. I was growing thin every day, went from 135 to 111. "I was so discouraged I didn't know what to do. One night about three weeks ago, I picked up a paper and saw your Dr. True's Elixir, Family Laxative and Worm Expeller, advertised. I made up my mind I had worms and the next day bought a small bottle of Dr. True's Elixir and took three teaspoonfuls until I had taken the bottle.

"I was surprised at the result, pinworms, some a finger long, so much slime, some that looked as though it was just the skin of worms. The day before I took Dr. True's Elixir I thought I should go to bed with the crawling in my stomach, I could feel them. My stomach was sour all the time and some days I could not retain what I ate, while other days I could keep anything on my stomach. I coughed so just the minute I went to bed some nights I would not sleep more than one or two hours. The second dose stopped the crawling and the second night didn't cough.

"I feel like a new person, all my friends say I look so much better, but I can't need to have them tell me, for I know my feelings. I wouldn't have believed any one could feel so much better in such a short time. I tell everyone I

We Can Not

Fully Explain Our Low Prices

When you go looking around this season for Men's furnishings and are asked to pay exorbitant prices for merchandise that you can duplicate, if not surpass, at this store for less, it takes something more than our well known merchandising economies to explain such remarkable price variations. We can only say two things are responsible.

FIRST—The suits that we are now selling (Kuppenheimer Suits) are made from woolsens that were bought from twelve to twenty-four months ago, before prices had advanced to anywhere near their present levels. No other concern that we know of made any such early or extensive preparations for these days of scarcity and high prices.

SECOND—We have resolved not to take the financial advantage of the high market, but will sell our merchandise (some unobtainable elsewhere at any price) on our regular margin of profit.

We do not have to pay the high rent like the city store.

Attention--Farmers

This is a splendid chance for farmers to take stock on their harvesting and having machines, or any others they will use during the year. Look each one over and note carefully any part that may need replacement. A little later you will be pressed for time and then a thorough examination will be almost impossible.

The repair problem can be much simplified by this method. While we have always tried to meet promptly every call of this kind, realizing how valuable your time is, having this advance information will aid us very much in making our service complete.

A list of your possible requirements will enable us to check our stock of repairs to see that not a single part you might need is missing.

We want to cut to a minimum the time between the need of a repair part and its supply. This you can help us do by giving us this list before or during Repair and Inspection Week, March 3-8.

THE MAINE AULD LANG SYNE

By Granville Fernald

Should old acquaintances be forgot,
And never brought to mind?
Should we forget our childhood home
And days of old "Lang Syne"?
For old lang syne so dear,
Our hearts to the old home
And memories fond, we cherish oft,
For days of old lang syne.
The woods and fields appear to view
In fancy's raptured dream;
Each hill and vale so well we knew
With mountain lake and stream;
We gaze on old Atlantic's breast,
How wondrously it shines;
We see the ships go up and down
As in days of old lang syne.
We think of friends so good and true
Sweet face and kindly eye,
Remembered well forevermore—
Our fancy brings them nigh.
For the church, the school, the childhood sports
To share our love combine;
Our pulses thrill with longings sweet
For days of old lang syne.
Though care and trouble crease the brow,
And age bends the knee,
Though anguish wrings the patient heart,
And lips breathe sorrow's sigh;
Forever and for aye we'll speak
Proud words for dear old Maine;
We'll pledge our truth to ne'er forget
The days of old lang syne.
Refrain
Daughters and sons far "Down East,"
From youth to life's decline,
In loyal sympathy repeat
Our love for "Auld Lang Syne."

Soldiers' Letters

The following letter was written on Dec. 15 in Germany by Pvt. Cecil M. Maxim to his aunt, Mrs. A. L. Harriman of Norway:

Dear Aunt:—I have just received your long letter of Oct. 6th. We have been moving so rapidly that the mail is somewhat slow in catching up. We started out for this country from a place in France called Beaumont just a little northwest of Verdun. We hiked across the rest of France, then the corner of Belgium and Luxembourg. When we came to Germany proper, we stopped for a few days' rest, after which we crossed the Moselle river. We were in Germany proper, Dec. 1st, at 9:45 a. m. From here we hiked over some large hills, (the people called them mountains, but they are not as we know them) and then down a long valley to the Rhine.

The valley was lined with vineyards, built into terraces so they looked like huge steps all the way to the tops of the hills some six or seven hundred feet high. In the valley we passed many mountain cafes and one of two larger cities. They were very pretty and some of the people could talk very good English, especially the store keepers.

One night we slept in a school house; the next in a bottling works where they had copped a gushing spring of natural soda water and now we are sleeping in the help's dormitory of a rich German's estate on the northern side of the Rhine valley.

We can see up and down the river until it goes out of sight between the hills and the sun looks as though it came up and went down almost in the same place. We see it for only a few hours, perhaps three, each day.

We have had no cold weather as yet, it is warm enough so that I am writing this with my shirt sleeves rolled up and both windows and doors open.

The Germans have two kinds of bread, both brown. One is light, like our Graham bread and the other is heavy and has a sour taste like cottonseed meal and that ground feed that they give the cows at home called "Succinea."

At present they have very little meat, most of which is pork and veal. I have not seen any beef since we came here except what we had ourselves which was issued by the quartermaster.

I received a letter from mother a couple of days ago, which I sat down and answered at once. I also received five or six bundles of papers from you and Aunt Isadore. Have not as yet received the letter of which you spoke from the class, but will write them one just as soon as I do.

Will be very glad to hear from all the boys and girls of the old 1912 bunch at N. H. S.

SOUTH WATERFORD

Oscar E. Bell died at his home in Fullerton, California, Feb. 10th.

Mr. Bell was born at South Waterford, Sept. 30, 1849, and passed away at Fullerton, California, February 10, 1919, being 69 years four months and ten days old. He was a man of whom there was born and united with the Methodist church of that place when about twenty years of age. In the spring of 1878, he went to South Dakota and settled on a homestead near Bismarck, being one of the early pioneers. On May 23, 1879, he was united in marriage to Frances R. Buck of Harrison, who passed to the better world on Dec. 10, 1889, leaving three little girls bereft of a mother's care.

Mr. Bell was an honest, upright, highly respected citizen, always thinking of the welfare of others. In 1905, he transferred his church membership in his native town to the Second Presbyterian Church of Flandreau. He lived on his homestead until a few years ago when he went to Fullerton, Cal., making that place his home, visiting here and at his boyhood home several times.

Of his immediate family, he leaves to mourn his loss, two daughters, Mrs. Geo. Stewart, and Mrs. Peter Thorson and ten grandchildren. His youngest daughter, Mrs. Geo. Stewart, and one sister, Mrs. Lewis W. Bell of Flandreau, N. D., and his son, Mr. W. F. Bell of Flandreau, N. D., and his daughter, Mrs. W. K. Hamlin of South Waterford, besides a host of friends here and at his late home.

NORWAY AND VICINITY

Rev. David B. Holt, D. D., Superintendent of Augusta District, will hold the fourth quarterly conference at the Norway M. E. Church next Saturday evening March 8, and will preach Sunday morning, the ninth. Dr. Holt will speak on the Methodist Centenary Movement, which is conducting a campaign to raise $85,000,000 during the next five years for home and foreign missions and war reconstruction.

The Los Angeles Examiner has announced: "Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hobbard of Norway, Me., are the guests of the Hon. J. H. C. Chandler, Chaplain of the U. S. House of Representatives, who is in California six or eight weeks."

Mrs. S. E. Goodspeed, who recently moved here from Monmouth, offers her place on Winter street for sale.

Mrs. Wm. C. Leavitt has 60 hens and for January and February they have laid 2,145 eggs or 9 eggs more than 178 dozen. The average per hen is 35 3/4 eggs each day for the 59 days. Is there another flock in this vicinity that can equal it?

The mean temperature of February as recorded by Wm. C. Leavitt on Orchard street was 20 1/2 degrees as against the same month last year of 10 1/2-13 1/2 degrees. Warmest February for many years.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Merrill who have been boarding the lumber crew working on the Gammon lot, for Bay Mills, have finished their work and returned to their home at North Norway.

W. H. Dunn, who lives with his son, George H. Dunn, in Farmington, visiting his daughter, Mrs. Harry Wood.

Mr. and Mrs. Moses P. Stiles were in town last week. Mrs. Stiles spent a few days with her sister, Mrs. S. B. Cummings.

Percy Russell fell on the street Thursday afternoon, and was taken to the Truett hospital for examination. Mr. Russell is about 80 years old, and was badly shaken up, although it is thought that no bones were broken.

Will Durrell has sold his farm at North Norway to George Merrill, who, with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Merrill, have taken possession. Mr. and Mrs. George Pouchard have moved to the house at North Norway.

Blanche Lane of Auburn, has been a guest for several days of Mrs. James Wright.

Ruth Carroll has recently returned from a two weeks' visit with friends and relatives in Sanford.

LOCAL PICKUPS

If you expect great achievements, you must work for them.
Bob Seavey of Beal's Tavern: "I'm much pestered: Water comes into my cellar every spring and I have to pump it out."

Oscar Cox is making $25.00 per day delivering ash with one horse. When told that he was "profiteering" he remarked that grain was awful high.

Simeon Harriman caught the lad by the scruff of the neck and marched him down Main street to school. S. Harriman is a town officer, but had to go.

"Can't get along without the paper. Here is $5.00. Give credit for that and don't stop the paper until the money is used up." This paid Mrs. O. B. Upton's paper up to the 8th of June, 1922.

Hills goes to the post office daily at 10.21 a. m. Mr. Cardwell a half minute later. When the mail is late, they console themselves with the thought that they were prompt and in making modest remarks about Government inefficiency.

Plebian cows are driven to the railroad station under whip and lash, with their aristocratic cousins are hitchhiked and ride on blue painted sleds. Such is the distinction between classes, even among domestic animals.

We raised the flag over the printing office Feb. 6th, because it was our foreman's birthday, E. C. Murch was 45. "Pat" says it had nothing to do with Mr. Lincoln's birthday, even if Mother did say the flag must be raised on that day.

B. G. McIntire: The first popular pulp wood delivered on the banks of Crooked River, brought $2.75 a cord. It was piled 4 feet and 4 inches high for the cord, and agreement, and went to S. D. Warren & Co., at Westport. Possibly this was 30 years ago. Peeled pulp now brings from $10 to $12 per cord on the river bank.

Thirty years ago, Len Carter, Gus Noyes and Ed Penley lived in Greenwood and were prosperous farmers. One of them told the writer the latest days of their life was in hauling cord wood. He went to Norway village every day. Oxen and steers were used. It took one day to get the wood out of the woods and into the door yard. This was an awful day's work.

The next day he would feed his cow and get started for the 8 mile trip at 5.30 a. m., taking his dinner in a pail and hay for the team in bags. He would arrive in the village by 10.30 a. m., unload the wood while the oxen and sleds were eating. Eat his dinner on the sled, do some shoddy and start for home usually by 12.30 or 1 o'clock. On the return he rode on the sled except when "turn-outs" were made. It took 11 hours to make the trip and a cord of wood brought from $5.00 to $6.00. Ten to twelve cords of wood besides getting out their own stock of wood was delivered in the village during the winter. Not a cent was paid out and all they got was clear profit and the cattle were growing every day. Those were the days when farmers were willing to work and they were happy and prosperous.

News and Critic, Laconia, N. H., expresses our view when it says: "Ex-President Taft in a speech at Portland, Me., on Monday, March 4, 1919, made a plea for a League of Nations and inquired how the peace treaty was to be enforced without such a league. He declared against the Kluks and Lodges, and it may be best to wait for the result, how we can afford to wait for the result, if not, let it have the proper opposition."

A. G. Hadley brought to the village a abundance of full blown pussy wrens. These were found by the roadside near Lake Pennessessee.

Millettville and Crockett Ridge
The Sunday vespers are still bringing out the people to join in the song service. They met at Mrs. Elinor Buck's the 11th, 40 or more of them; and Sunday, the 24th, in spite of the severe snow storm, 18 or 20 gathered at Mrs. C. A. Witham's and held forth in song. At Mrs. Ann and Mrs. Frank Millett's this week there were about 35 present. Just before the singing began, Sunday school lessons were presented and given to the children.

The Sunday, at Mrs. S. I. Jackson's, at 2 o'clock promptly, there will be a half hour devoted to study of the lessons and discussion. Then will follow the usual song service. All come! The Sewing Club met recently with Mrs. Joseph Lovejoy and finished the work begun. Ten little pinafore dresses have been handed in to Red Cross Headquarters as the result. An enjoyable meeting.

Mrs. Albert Farnum and Mrs. Spaulding Abbott with Novel Brown as driver, made a sleigh full to attend West Paris Grange from Crockett Ridge, Saturday, Feb. 23. Mrs. Levi Richardson, Ruth Holgate and Clarence Buck made another.

Annual Board of Trade Meeting

The annual meeting of the Norway Board of Trade was held Friday evening at the Beals Tavern. At seven o'clock a fine supper was served by landlady, F. Robt. Seavey by his corps of efficient waitresses. Fifty-six were present.

After the supper the meeting was called to order by E. N. Swett, who gave a brief outline of the business to be transacted and nominating committee appointed, composed of George L. Curtis, Geo. M. Smith and Charles F. Bidlon. The following officers were elected:

Pres.—Lawrence M. Carroll.
1st V. Pres.—Eugene N. Swett.
2d V. Pres.—Edwin S. Cummings.
3d V. Pres.—Donald B. Partridge.
Sec.—Hon. Bertrand G. McIntire.
Hon. A. J. Seavey, Fred Smith, Stuart W. Goodwin, Henry E. Foster.

Mr. Carroll spoke briefly in accepting the office and spoke of the work that should be accomplished by the Board of Trade in Norway in advancing the interests of the town. The president appointed Mr. J. Stearns as toastmaster for the evening.

Mr. Stearns spoke upon the mill-owners situation in the two towns in regard to the hearing held at Augusta last week. Previous to assuming the duties of toastmaster, Mr. Stearns gave hearty applause in appreciation of his work in regard to the railroad situation as presented by him at Augusta.

Remarks were made by H. L. Horne, Charles G. Blake, Rev. M. O. Baltzer, Hon. Bertrand G. McIntire, Henry B. Foster, Yeaton, Hugh H. Hildreth, Henry B. Foster and others. The town meeting, the railroad and the draining of Cottage St. were the principle subjects of discussion. It was the desire of the meeting to hold a get-together meeting of the Board of Trade with the South Paris Board of Trade to discuss and make plans for future transportation between the two villages. The committee on arrangements were: Pres. Lawrence M. Carroll, Herman L. Horne and Z. L. Merchant. The president announced that the last Friday evening of each month, the Board of Trade would hold its monthly meeting. A large number of new members were voted on to be invited to become members of the organization.

Poverty Ball Next Big Party

Giles Frost has set Friday evening, March 21 as the date for the poverty ball at the Norway Opera House.

Au Revoir Party

A surprise party was given Marion Gibson Thursday evening at the home of Madeline Pridie, lower Main street, the occasion being an "au revoir" for Miss Gibson, who left Monday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Gibson and sister Mary for an indefinite visit in California.

During the evening presented by some called to the room with a bag containing gifts from her friends; also letters from each one which were to be read during her sojourn.

Refreshments of fudge, ice cream, cake and fancy cookies were served during the evening. Those present were Edith Rideout, Lucia Alford, Pearl Cook, Marguerite Welch, Louise Seavey, Eula Bicknell, Ruth Carroll, Ethelyn Flint, Ida Merrill, Hazel Bicknell, Mrs. Ethelyn Lasselle Lapham and the guest of honor.

By request, Shaw's Novelty Orchestra of South Paris will give a dance at the Norway Grange Hall, Friday evening, March 14.

A special meeting of Oxford Council will be held Friday evening, March 7th. There will be work in the R. & S. M. degree.

E. N. Swett spent the day Tuesday, in Portland, on business.

John Twibley of South Portland, formerly of Norway, spent the week end at Freeland Young's.

HOW MRS. BOYD AVOIDED AN OPERATION

Canton, Ohio.—"I suffered from a female trouble which caused me much suffering, and two doctors decided that I would have to go through an operation before I could get well.
"My mother, who had been helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, advised me to try it before submitting to an operation. It relieved me from my troubles so I can do my house work without any difficulty. I advise any woman who is afflicted with female troubles to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial and it will do as much for you as it did for me."
—Mrs. M. E. BOYD, 1421 5th St., N. E., Canton, Ohio.

The Doctor of Osteopathy

is a physician and surgeon of the osteopathic system of practice. He is a real doctor in every sense of the term. His scientific education is as broad as that of the "regular" medical school and in important respects is much more practical and better than any other school's. The course at osteopathic colleges is four years of nine months each; every student is required to give a certain number of treatments; all of them have hospital of infirmities (dislocations, fractures, burns, wounds, etc.), attend confinements, use antiseptics for poisons and antiseptics; treat throat, nose and ear diseases; take care of all infectious and contagious diseases as well as the non-contagious diseases (including colds, influenza, bronchitis, pneumonia, pleurisy, diphtheria, infantile paralysis, cerebro-spinal meningitis, appendicitis, typhoid fever, rheumatic fever, smallpox, etc.); the osteopath orders diet and regulates hygiene—in short, exercises all the functions of the broadly educated, safe and sane doctor whose art of healing both prevents disease and cures it. The osteopath is not alone a diagnostician but preeminently a healer.

		THE NEW MAP OF EUROPE
		Past and present generations will hav to resume the study of geography as result of the great war and the decisio of peace conference now in session i Paris. Not only will the boundaries o countries be entirely changed, but n names of new rulers will have to be lea and new forms of government memoriz ed. In fact more than Europe will be affected and before the world finally se tles down to real peace conditions, exte nsive map revisions will be necessary i both Africa and Asia. It is in Europe however, that the most startling change will occur, and principally central Euro pe which the former great German and A sian nations have set up into smaller powers or else added to the domains o some of the Allied victors.
		When the new map appears it will sh undoubtedly, five great new states, all o f which will be friendly to the Allies. The first will be Poland, located on the north and having access to the Baltic. The second will be Czechoslovakia, containing the Slo vak districts of the Hungarian borderlan d with Bohemia in the center. The third will be a greater Rumania. The fourth will be a greater South Slav Kingdom, with the Serbian prince regent at its head and the fifth will be a notably larger Greece.
		Austria and Hungary will be greatly re duced in size and apparently will have no successors. Alsace-Lorraine will be returne d to France. Much German and Russian territory will be partly recom structed for the formation of new units of government, most of them democratic in their principles.
		Each of the new nations will be com posed of certain groups of people who a re of one nationality, or who, undoubt edly, will live in perfect harmony under the same flag, and who, from the fact that they will be self governing will have little desire to precipitate another war.
		WHAT GERMANY ESCAPED
		Aerial torpedoes in the form of dimin utive airplanes were among the Ameri can war-wagging prospects when the signi of the armistice ended the struggle.
		A powerful weapon of destruction which could have been used with terrific effect against fortifications, cities and o pposing armies was in process of experi mentation, according to reports which have leaked out at Washington.
		The secret of the invention has been closely guarded. Even now the authori ties are unwilling to make public the de tails of what they appeared to be, but compared with what they are, the construc tion was similar, engines and planes be ing provided. Unlike airplanes they cessarily had to be self-propelling with out pilots to guide them. The torpedoes had a range of 60 miles.
		By means of a wonderful mechanism it was claimed to be possible to shoot their course with great precision. At the ex moment desired the torpedo would expl oding, destroying the miniature airplane, o course, but causing widespread destruc tion. The torpedoes were designed to carry 300 pounds of T. N. T.
